

Legion Baseball

American Legion Baseball is a national institution, having thrived through a world war, several national tragedies, and times of great prosperity as well as great despair. The league still stands behind the traditional values upon which it was founded in 1925.

American Legion Baseball has taught hundreds of thousands of young Americans the importance of sportsmanship, good health and active citizenship. The program is also a promoter of equality, making teammates out of young athletes regardless of their income levels or social standings. American Legion Baseball has been, and continues to be, a stepping stone to manhood for millions of young men who have gone on to serve their country or community, raise families or play the sport at the highest level.

The 2013 Baseball Season is fast approaching and soon our teams will be competing in Duncan Park Stadium and nearby towns. The American Legion covers the costs for baseball players to play the game. This is made possible through our many generous contributors. I urge you to take into consideration our efforts to field both junior and senior winning teams and to renew your support for Post 28's Baseball Program. Please find the time this year to support the teams by attending a game, contributing your valuable time or making a monetary donation. The Post will need members to help down at the ball field during home games to run the concession stand, sell tickets at the gate, run the scoreboard, be an announcer or help in general to setup for the evening. We have published our 2013 Baseball Program —as we have done every year—and selling space in it for people to show support or advertise their business.

"The way a team plays as a whole determines its success. You may have the greatest bunch of individual stars in the world, but if they don't play together, the club won't be worth a dime."
